NO HOOVER DRY FIGHT
ONE HAPPY MOTHER
THE ABLE LORD COWDRAY
BEER OR CHILDREN, CHOOSE

—By Arthur Brisbane—

SOME THAT UNDERESTIMATE President Hoover's knowledge of practical politics may revise their opinions, now that he ignores the passionate appeal from prohibition organizations to stomp the country on behalf of the dry law and amendment menaced by wet Democrats and Republicans.

The President decides that Americans over 21 years of age are sufficiently intelligent to decide about prohibition for themselves. He will look on and let the cat jump, without pursuing her.

IF WE KNOW AND FEEL anything, in the grave, waiting for Gabriel to rouse us, there is one happy mother in a grave in Sweden.

Her son, Andree, courageous explorer, lost in the arctic 33 years ago, now returned to his native land, will be buried beside her. He wrote: "No matter where I may be found after death, I wish to be buried beside my mother."

Every mother knows what happens those words would give to the mother of Andree. The grave will not seem cold, with her son lying beside her.

Lord Cowdray, owner of the London News Chronicle, an able man with world-wide interests, is here observing us. He reports that intemperance is diminishing in Great Britain, "discouraged by taxation."

In England whiskey, bought legitimately, costs about as much as it does here, bought from bootleggers, about $5 a bottle. In England, the money goes to the government. Here it helps build up our crime wave, bribe public officials and occasionally, as in New York, enables some judge or magistrate to buy his seat on the bench.

LORD COWDRAY IS ONE of the puzzling Brits who seem to have time for business and everything else.

At home he hunts the hounds, of which he is master, attends to polo, publishes his important newspapers. He has oil wells and oil works in Oklahoma, Texas, Mexico, and elsewhere, and looks after them before returning to England early in October. He will travel about 10,000 miles in the United States, looking after his affairs.

He comes of an active family. His father had interests all over the world, and among other things built the Pennsylvania railroad tunnels under the Hudson river.

SIMON DE BLOK, of Kane county, Illinois, pleaded guilty of making beer on his chicken farm.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES
LIST BUILDING NEEDS

Say Conditions In City Warrant Construction Of New High School; Tell Of Reasons For Incorporating Some Features

(This is one of series of articles contributed by school authorities dealing with the proposed bond issue for a new high school building.)

Many persons have asked in the last few weeks why Salem needs another school building. The answer is, so that our boys and girls may have the same educational advantages as those of other cities.

When so-called education consisted in reading a book and reciting the knowledge given, a room with desks for pupils and a teacher were all that were required. "But educational methods have changed in the last decade as much as has the automobile."

Sons Of Union Veterans
Celebrate 29th Year
In Salem Hall

Rev. S. A. Mayer, pastor of the Methodist church, was the speaker when Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Union Veterans, celebrated its 29th anniversary Friday evening at the hall, East State street, by entertaining its allied orders.

Rev. Mayer discussed the struggles of the Civil war veterans; told of the Gettysburg battle field, and appealed to the members of the organization to continue their work in memory of the "boys in blue."

C. A. Oeder, commander of the camp, opened the meeting, and welcomed the visitors.

G. H. Mounts had charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Park F. Yengling, of Bay Village, gave talks. Mr. Yengling, a former Salem resident, who helped to organize the camp here, is a past national officer, and his wife is past national officer in the Daughters of Union Veterans.

Three members of Prescott post No. 10, G. A. R., Smith Reed, the commander, William Horne and Henry Oeder, were guests of the camp on this occasion. Horne and Oeder gave talks.

Others who gave talks were Mrs. James McConner, Mrs. Carl Clay and Mrs. Fidler, Frank L. Probert, secretary of the camp, reviewed its history. The camp had 38 charter members, nine or 10 of them were at this meeting.

The musical numbers consisted of a trombone solo by C. C. Wilkinson; harmonica selections by Frank Yengling; piano solos by Mrs. Harold Babb, and vocal solos by Mr. Babb.

SHAMROCK, ENTERPRISE
POISED FOR CUP RACE;
CREWS ARE CONFIDENT

Fourteenth Contest Will Be Started Today; Seamen
Predict Rough Going Before Races Are Ended; Palatial Yachts Gather

(By Associated Press)
NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 13.—The 14th contest for the America's cup attracted a mighty fleet of yachts today.

Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenger for the famed America's cup, and Enterprise, Harold S. Vanderbilt's defender, in the first of a series of races had to sail 30 miles over the open ocean, 15 miles to windward or leeward, from a starting buoy nine miles off Brenton reef lightship and return.

Crews of both sloops were optimistic. Sir Thomas characteristically was cheerful.

"I think my chances are better than ever before," he said. Conditions are as fair as possible. In my 30 years of pursuing the elusive trophy I have always subscribed to the slogan, "may the best boat win" and may I add, "may the best boat be Shamrock V."

Vanderbilt is cheerful. Harold S. Vanderbilt, skipper of the defender of the hundred guinea cup which was won by the yacht, America in 1851, and which has since cost millions in challenge and defense, was also cheerful.

"It seems fitting," he said, "to state that the afterguard and crews of both yachts are tuned to a high pitch and ready for the starting gun. The friendliest relations exist between us and our adversaries are the finest sportsmen we know."

General John Pershing Has Reached 70th Year In Life

Commander Of American Forces In France Regrets
That Men Of Command Knew Him Only As
Impersonal Leader; Writes Memoirs

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—For all the gossip of the years since the war as to his political hopes, General John J. Pershing entered on his seventieth birthday today supremely happy that he is and always has been "just a soldier."

"I can say with all sincerity that nothing gives me more happiness than that I have never been drawn into political life," he said. "I have watched what happens to holders of high political office. I have seen their every word distorted and twisted to find some hidden meaning. I have seen their political supporters picture them as prodigies of wisdom and statesmanship while their opponents at the same time set them out as stupid scoundrels."

And I have known them, and known that they were neither the one nor the other, just average Americans."

Looks Back Over Years
So Pershing looks back over those 70 years. During and since the war there have been many times when his availability as a presidential candidate was talked of about his friends, never with his assent.

He recalled today that once in France, even in the heat of making his army ready for battle, some one said to him that his overseas assignment might make him president some day.

"I said to him," Pershing added, "that subject must never be mentioned."

Two Salem women, Mrs. George Eberstine and Mrs. S. Bruder, were elected to office at the 40th annual convention of the Columbiana County W. C. T. U. which was held Friday at East Palestine.

Mrs. Eberstine is medal contest superintendent, while Mrs. Bruder is flower mission superintendent.

All the officers of the union were re-elected. Mrs. Kitty Rochwell, of East Palestine, is president. Her assistant officers are: Vice President, Mrs. Margaret Bricker, Lisbon; recording secretary, Mrs. Anna Reed, of Columbiana; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Myra Keyes, East Palestine; treasurer, Mrs. May Tyson, of Columbiana.

Ninety-four delegates were registered at the convention, 12 of them from Salem. Resolutions passed at the convention had to do largely with law enforcement.

Mrs. Viola Romans, of Columbus, state vice president, gave the main address and discussed "Prohibition."

"The church people are entirely able to settle the prohibition question, if properly aroused. It is a great misfortune to this country that the press emphasizes the wet side. The W. C. T. U. must use the daily paper's columns to tell the truth about the dry cause," Mrs. Romans stated.

The speaker upheld the direct primaries as the best means of getting good candidates on the ballot. "The good people should go to them and vote," she said.

The 1931 convention will be held in Salem.

HURRICANE ON
NORTHERN PATH

Storm Warnings Shown
On Eastern Coast;
Damage Small

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—An intense tropical hurricane which yesterday struck the lower North Carolina coast with great force today apparently was speeding northeastward along the shore with indications that winds of gale force would be felt by noon as far north as Atlantic City.

Storm warnings were posted from Hatteras to Sandy Hook but expectations were it would miss part of the Virginia shore at least. The weather bureau reported the disturbance small in diameter and moving northeastward about 15 miles an hour. It first struck Cape Lookout, North Carolina, yesterday, with a 120-mile an hour wind. By last night it had reached Hatteras and from there appeared to be moving across the expanse of ocean towards the Delaware and Jersey shore.

The hurricane crippled communication between the North Carolina coast towns and outlying areas but no loss of life was reported and available information indicated the damage was confined to broken wire lines, uprooted trees and a few demolished buildings.

Seven Cases Ignored In Meeting; One Referred To Other County

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Mary Jackson, alias Mary Tinney of Lisbon was indicted by the September grand jury, which reported at 3:30 p. m. Friday, for murder in the second degree, of Frank Murphy on July 12 at Salem.

This was the sole major indictment returned by the jury, although 22 true bills were returned against 29 people.

Peter M. Dragish, also of Salem, is being held in the county jail as a material witness in connection with the death of Murphy, who died soon after he was shot. The woman was arrested at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tinney the same night Murphy was shot, and is reported to have made a confession that she fired the shot.

Grand Jury examined 124 witnesses since it went into session last Monday morning, and 31 cases were presented for investigation. Seven cases were ignored, and with one case referred to Cuyahoga county and another to the probate court of this county. Four secret indictments were returned.

Those who have been indicted will be arraigned at 8:30 o'clock next Monday morning. True bills announced are:

LISBON ERECTS
NEW RESERVOIR

Large Storage Tank At County Seat To Hold
85,000 Gallons

LISBON, Sept. 13.—The new storage reservoir which has been in the course of construction for several weeks past on the property purchased by the town just north of the county fair grounds and in the vicinity of several of the deep water wells from which the water supply of the town is drawn, has been completed, with the exception of the pipe connections. This work will be placed within the next week when the tank will be placed in operation.

Lisbon's water supply, drawn from wells located on the Elliott farm just north of town and pumped directly into the mains, has been pronounced 100 per cent pure a number of times when analyzed although the water does contain a quantity of iron, which at times causes discoloration. The new storage tank which has a capacity of 85,000 gallons will eliminate by a special process all of this iron from the water, leaving it with crystal like clearness.

All of the water which will be needed for domestic use will be drawn from the storage tank after it is placed in commission. In the event of fire or any urgent need of any large quantity of water this will be drawn from the reservoir located on top of the hill south of town which is kept filled at all times.

Believes Brisbane

CAMP RICHARDSON, CAL., Sept. 13.—Eddy Rickenbacker, our ace of aces, who brought down 26 enemy planes, walked in his sleep and had a 20-foot forced landing, and cracked up.

I agree with Arthur Brisbane, not on Russia, or don't sell America short, but on his stand on Rickenbacker. I believe Eddy ought to get an even break with a cross-continent record or a refueling champion.

There is such a thing as a hero being too modest and I think the least we can do for Eddy is to have the nation give him a parachute to sleep in. We are doing all we can to have another war and we will want to use him.

CITY EXPANSION

After many months of litigation in an endeavor to thwart the city's desire to expand, Judge Lones has handed down a ruling in common pleas court which finally permits the extension of the corporate limits. A technical point determined the issue, but opponents of the movement relied upon technicalities and lost by the methods which they employed.

Those who fought so stubbornly to make ineffective the original order granting the city the sections which represent its normal growth accomplished but one purpose—that of denying the city its full count in the 1930 census figures. That is regrettable, for Salem would have benefited in an indirect way by having this additional population listed. From a population standpoint, it will be handicapped for the next ten years by the persistent efforts to block annexation of part of Perry township.

Now those who headed this fight are to become residents of the city. To all intents and purposes they have been such for several years. They have enjoyed the protection and the benefits of the city's institutions, governmental and civic, without contributing their full share to maintaining these institutions. They have been dependent upon the city as much as any individuals who have resided within its corporate limits. A great majority of them earn their livelihood within the city.

By the city extension program their status changes little. Their taxes will not increase, at least not noticeably, but what they pay in taxes will come to the city instead of the township. At the same time, a burden is lifted from the township so that it does not suffer financially. These new residents will require certain improvements which a municipality must offer, and such improvements should and will come in the normal course of events, just as they have come to those who long have been residents of the city.

To Solicitor Cecil Scott, and those who aided him in fighting for what they considered to be the city's natural as well as legal rights, belongs credit for this victory. What they have accomplished will be appreciated far more in a few years, perhaps, than those who opposed the movement are willing to admit today. Their interests are safeguarded, as the future will reveal.

Those in the township who fought against annexation—and all township residents were not opposed to it—did so earnestly and sincerely. The one blight upon the whole controversy was the position taken by City Auditor Helen Woerther, who defied a court order in an apparent attempt to take sides in the issue. As a city official her duty was clear-cut. If her personal desires were other than they should have been as a city official, she had ample opportunity to keep out of the controversy by submitting to the court order. Why she should have placed herself in such a disputable position is difficult to understand. She may have some explaining to do if she expects another term as city auditor.

SNUBBING THE NATIONALISTS

The round table conference on India that will open October 20 seems likely to proceed against a background of violence on the peninsula. Sixty-six Indians of all religions and all parties except the nationalist have been invited to attend but it is the Nationalists who are at the bottom of most of the Indian unrest and they hardly can be expected to ignore the obvious snub.

The Nationalists, unfortunately for their own interests, have advocated a policy of all-or-nothing. A compromise measure of settlement offered Great Britain by the party asked for a complete responsible government and the right of secession from the empire at will and even such impossibilities terms as these must have been worse before they were whittled down by "compromise." The usually calm and sympathetic Lord Irwin, viceroy of India, was shocked out of his well-bred composure by the nature of the request.

In the weeks which remain before the opening of the conference it is probable that increasing support for the labor government's stand on the Indian question will be evident in England. The all-or-nothing attitude of the Nationalist congress will be very largely responsible if such a change in attitude occurs. As never before, the British are alert to the possibility of development of Empire trade and India is an important consideration wherever there is talk of trade. It would be only natural for the British workingman to feel that his own welfare depends on a solution of the problem in India, therefore.

Strictly speaking, the coming round table conference would be a true constituent assembly only if the Nationalist party were to be represented. As the delegates have been named, it can only succeed in bringing a certain amount of pressure to bear on the uninvited Nationalists, who, after all, have never claimed to represent more than a slight minority of India's vast population. They, in turn, will satisfy their resentment by keeping the civil disobedience campaign very much alive during the two or three months of the conference.

THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT

A rumor that Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, is favorable to abolishing his department and turning over its greatly diminished functions to various other departments bring not much less of a shock to the general public than would a rumor that the White House was to be painted pink.

To the gentlemen and ladies who make their living from the department's work and to some others who think it is the government's duty to make as many jobs as possible it is comparable to the shock that would result from, let us say, an announcement that the White House was to be painted red and trimmed in green and purple.

Yet, elimination of the department of interior would be in complete accordance with the present tendency in Washington to reduce and simplify the machinery of government. The department was established some 30 years ago to administer the public domain. Some of the present duties are care of the Indians, supervision of certain national parks, forest reservations and distribution of appropriations for agricultural and mechanical colleges in the states and territories. Viewed as a whole, it is convenient place to dump the odds and ends of governmental business that no one ever has time to gather up and put away. A commission on reorganization of the executive departments of the federal government advised its elimination years ago.

It may be assumed that more will be heard of the department's fate before another presidential election. Mr. Hoover pledged reorganization of the federal government and if the department of the interior has outgrown its usefulness he may be expected to take the necessary action.

What Others Say

GOOD KING ARTHUR

Something useful as well as interesting ought to come out of the conference which scholars of international repute are holding for the purpose of going over carefully the various stories told of Arthur, the most delightful of all Britain's rulers. Romancers have spoken of Arthur; poets have sung of him and his remarkable deeds and recounted the incidents which gave him such a place and hold in English romantic history; historians have tried to reconcile the legends that have run through the centuries. In fact there are so many accounts of King Arthur and his career, and so deeply is the legend wrought into the ancient literature of Great Britain and of France, with various renderings in European legendary lore, that a congress of earnest students should find plenty of material for the establishment of some basis of unanimity.

That an "Arthur" figured in British history seems to be accepted by chroniclers, and he is placed in Britain as ruler at the same time that Clovis was establishing the Frankish rule in the lands of the Visigoths; some ten years later he was defeated at Chardford by Cerdic, who established thereafter the third Saxon kingdom of Wessex. On such reports have been constructed that remarkable legend, which has given to the world the beautiful story of a king who was first of all a man above reproach, who was without peer as a soldier, whose domestic life was clean, though clouded by unhappy associations; whose aims and ambitions were to inspire the highest ideals in those knightly companions who sat at his Round table and then went out to exemplify their sovereign's principles. It is a wholesome tradition, at the very least, and no one at this late day can gain any fact that the spirit of King Arthur, as presented in the legendary history of Great Britain, did much in the earlier centuries to establish British nobility on a higher plane than perhaps was the rule elsewhere.—Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The cat gains popularity as a household pet in New York. Until recently pedigreed tabbies were only a side line in swanky dog shops. Today there are several cat shops and two feline establishments are to open—one with an entry front on Fifth and the other on Park avenue.

Three veterinarians, and one with a Van Dyke throws Irvin Cobo into a state of cat-alepsy, confine practices to cats. The last cat show at the Waldorf brought out one of the most distinguished Social Register lists since the Clarence Mackay party to Lindbergh. Or who was it?

The "Book of Cats" by the Japanese artist Fougita had a short pause among best sellers. For years cats were chiefly the alley-roaming variety used as rat catchers in the warehouse and tenement districts and along West street wharves. But scarcely a mansion, apartment de luxe or pent house does not house a blooded cat these days—the silver and smoke, the fawn, snow white, Persian, chinchilla and bobbed Siamese. Other fashionable colors are pastel blue, orange, tortoise shell and, of course, ebony black.

Many Botticellian ladies in ecrushaaded limousines display cats of royal lineage on silken pillows, gazing out with that contemplative scorn only cats achieve. Celebrity cat owners include Mary Garden, Neyma McMein, Greta Garbo, Jeritza, Eva Galenne, Carl Van Vechten, T. B. Costain and Dorothy Gish.

A famous actress takes her cat in a plush lined basket to her dressing room nightly. Lindbergh as a cat fancier revealed consideration for him by leaving the kitten behind in his solo to Paris. Three New York newspapers feature question and answer departments by cat experts.

The greatest prize winners come from England where cat fanciers are a guild. It has a National Cat club listing royalty and members of Parliament. Cat owners claim cats are better mannered than dogs. I don't subscribe to such feline foolishness but I don't chuckle at them trotting around on leashes as many do.

From a dramatic critic's report: "The play is a sort of fugue on the tables of consanguinity with incredible variations." Unless the choral manoeuvres achieve fresh permutations it wouldn't appeal to me. That is approximately, you big educated baboon.

But I admire the dramatic diversifications of Baird Leonard. Life's most recent critic. She is the second female reviewer to spark intellectual lustre at first sight. The other is Alison Smith. Miss Leonard was graduated from Smith and began writing a cracker-jack column on the old Morning Telegraph.

Fifteen Agents To Tour U. S. Farms

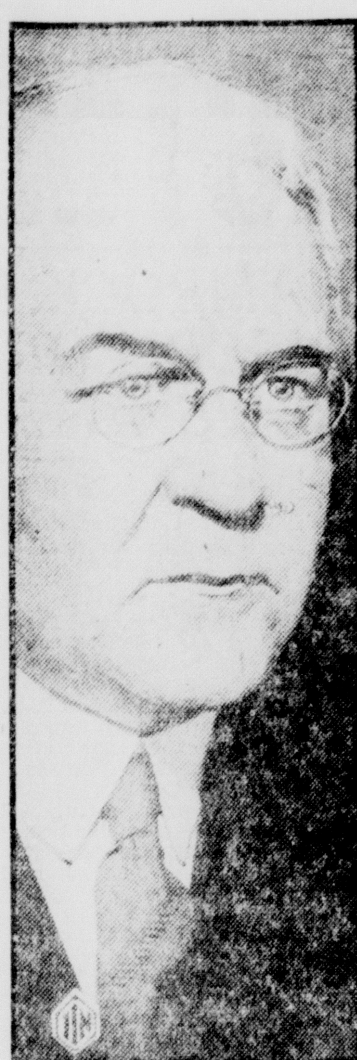

MOSCOW, Sept. 13.—Fifteen of the best field agents of the Soviet Grain trust will get free trips to the United States this fall to study grain farming as rewards for meritorious service in the spring sowing campaign this year.

Ask Injunction

PAINESVILLE, Sept. 13.—Charging Willowick town officials arrested motorists for "revenue only" and not for law enforcement, W. F. Wray and C. B. Beth, taxpayers of the village, yesterday asked an injunction in common pleas court against the alleged practice. The plaintiffs alleged that little effort was made to enforce the prohibition laws there.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, September 14
Sunday's horoscope holds testimony of lively and prosperous conditions in all that pertains to writings, publishing, letters or cultural pursuits, but otherwise shows a menace of treachery, with sinister and sordid occurrences. It would be well to be fortified against all manner of subtle and mysterious visitations.

Those whose birthday it is, may look for a very lively and progressive year in business, with all pertaining to publishing, writings and promotion thriving. A child born on this day should be brilliant and versatile and should make fine success in many directions. He may, however, be subject to secret and subtle enemies.

For Monday, September 15
Monday's astrological forecast is a generally fortunate one, excepting that those in the employment of others are enjoined to safeguard their positions and not to incur censure or dismissal. A favorable change or journey is in prospect, with the finances fairly well aspected and the personal energies and initiative well stimulated. Purely personal relations may give concern.

Those whose birthday it is are promised a rather fortunate year, with prosperous and progressive conditions, except in the matter of employment, in which there is some hazard. A child born on this day should be capable, enterprising and ambitious and may have an adventurous career, succeeding better "on its own" than in employment.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Guard Infants' Teeth

It is immensely important that every baby should have a good start in life. Your baby's life and health will depend largely on nutrition, not only after birth, but long before the child is born. The child's constitution will depend to a large extent upon what the mother eats before the child comes into the world, as well as the nourishment given afterward.

If, before her child's birth, the mother follows a diet of fresh natural foods her child should be normal and healthy. But if she leaves out of the diet the valuable mineral salts found in fresh vegetables and fruits, then the needs of her body and that of her child will suffer. These foods with plenty of milk daily will supply the lime needed to preserve her own and to make her baby's teeth and bones.

Fresh Fruits Daily
She should eat plenty of raw and stewed fresh fruits daily, as well as plenty of raw and cooked green vegetables. Whole wheat bread, if it agrees with her, should be substituted for white bread, and milk products for much meat. Such a diet is very essential for the welfare of the expected child.

Although the teeth of an infant are not visible at birth they are embedded in the jaw. They begin to form and harden five months before birth, although the first tooth does not develop until the child is six or eight months old. Even the first permanent back teeth or molars begin before birth.

It is therefore essential that lime salts be supplied to the unborn child through the mother's diet, and later through the mother's milk in nursing. It is easy to see how important it is that great care should be given to the mother's diet both before and after the child is born.

Supply Vitamin C
It has been established beyond a doubt that if every child could be fed on its own mother's milk for the first eight months, there would be a tremendous decrease in the death-rate of infants in their first year. There would be a great decrease in rickets and tuberculosis in children.

It is known that the child that has been fed on mother's milk has greater resistance to disease than one who has been bottle-fed. Every mother who can should nurse her baby. Mother's milk is more easily digested than cow's milk.

Hoover Greets German Air Conquerors

President Hoover extended official welcome of the United States to the four intrepid German airmen, who wrote another chapter in aviation history by successfully completing a flight from Germany to New York via the Faroe Islands, Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Newfoundland. Long Winning in Louisiana Primary

Following a campaign in which charges and counter-charges flew indiscriminately, Governor Huey Long (above), of Louisiana, apparently has captured the Democratic Senatorial nomination from the incumbent, Senator Joseph E. Ransdell.

PRESIDENT WILL APPOINT TARIFF COMMITTEE SOON

New Commission Will Be Completed Before Next Tuesday

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—President Hoover is to complete, before next Tuesday, the new tariff commission which is to administer what he considers the "outstanding step" of the revised tariff legislation—its flexible provisions.

With Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, as its chairman, the new commission will supplant the old one, the expiration of which is September 16, of the ninety day period allotted the President by congress for reorganizing the personnel. The chief executive has selected already in addition to Chairman Fletcher, Thomas Walker Page of Virginia, a Democrat, who was chairman of the commission under President Wilson.

The names of the other four members selected are to be announced after week-end conferences with Chairman Fletcher.

Reports have been current for some time that chairman and vice chairman of the present commission will be retained as members by the chief executive. Confirmation of these reports has been declined, however, at the White House.

In accepting recess appointments now from Mr. Hoover, each of the new members must face the senate for confirmation in December. This prospect has added to the difficulties the President has met in filling the six posts, as many of these declined to serve because of possible opposition and rejection by the senate.

Taking full time allowed him under the law in selecting the six men, President Hoover has culled through scores of names. He made his most vigorous stand on the entire tariff controversy upon his demand that the flexible provisions for changing the duties up or down within a range of 50 percent be retained, and it is upon them that he must rely to correct any inequalities in tariff.

Under the law the commission will investigate rates and make recommendations for changes which must be either disapproved or promulgated by the president, who is left without authority to direct changes himself.

Use of Children as Snoopers Taught in Dry Agents' School

Text in "Shadowing" Course Advocates Use of Children as Dry Aids In Bolstering the Government's Defense Against the Liquor Menace

The use of children in the detection of prohibition violators, is one of the methods being taught Federal agents at the Prohibition Bureau's school of instruction in the nation's capital. One of the texts used for study by the agents as part of the course on "shadowing" given by Harry M. Dengler, director of the school, advocates the employment of boys. Director Amos W. W. Woodcock squelched the idea and deleted it from the passbooks. Above pictures show how boys would "help" in detecting violators if the Bureau adopts the plan set forth in the text books.

STONE TO SPEND OUTING IN WEST

Famous Actor Looks To California As Means Of Recreation

NEW LONDON CONN., Sept. 13.—Fred Stone looks to California for his recreation. His friends say so, and the musical comedy star admits it. Stone came here some years ago and liked the looks of the western suburbs. He purchased a section to the Morton T. Plant game preserve lying just off the Boston Post Road in the town of East Lyme and adopted it as his home, coming here at intervals to settle down for a rest.

Two years ago some one invited the actor into trying to operate an airplane. He could fly it alright, but he had a little difficulty in landing. He cracked up, in fact, and for a long while was in the hospital here, with windows giving out on the wide expanse of the harbor and Long Island, beyond, and the field at Groton Point where he and the earth met rather suddenly. Then he went onto the stage again, and he and his crutches were a delectably amusing combination.

Some time after the accident the state of Connecticut decided it needed the Stone ranch as a practice place for its field artillery. The legislature voted to lease it, and the state took an option on the property a something like $60,000. The option will be taken up next year, it is believed, and Fred Stone penates will be freighted elsewhere—presumably to California where he goes to loaf and fish.

But Fred Stone "came home" this summer and had a good time on his ranch. The governor of Connecticut and all the other state dignitaries, all friends of Stone, were entertained there, and he was their guest elsewhere. It is his last summer here, anyway, and folks were bound to make the most of it.

PERSHING NOW 70 YEARS OLD

tioned or thought of among my officers and friends. It did not exist for us in France."

The general smiled a little as he said it, but there was a gleam in his eye recalling the stern, unwavering purpose with which he has known how to enforce his orders all his long, soldierly life.

And, to his great regret, it is as a cold, unemotional martinet and relentless disciplinarian—a military machine—that too many of the men he led to victory in France looked upon him. He sensed that many times and wished they could have known him better.

"Soft Spot" Exists

"For that is not John Pershing as I have known him all my life," the general said, turning on again that happy smile. "He is quite a different fellow, with many a soft spot in his make-up. That has made some of the things he has had to do painful at times. Military responsibility leaves little chance for a field commander to show those kindly, human impulses we all like so much in men we have to do with. I wish they could have known the real John Pershing 'over there' as he knew himself."

More people than the general know that side of America's foremost soldier of his time.

Ever since the war, to go no farther back, John Pershing has always had a job of work to do.

"I could not live without it," he said. "Goodness, I don't know what I would do if I did not have something to work at."

Remains A Crusader

He came home as he went, a crusader. The first task he set himself, aside from that deep, almost devotional feeling he has about the lads of the A. E. F. who died in France, was to try the experience of the World war into living legislation for peacetime military policy. He saw that done in the national defense act of 1920.

At 70 General Pershing has finished his memoirs, the story of the A. E. F. he had thought never to write.

Now, looking back through the mellowing haze of those 70 years, he is thinking of perhaps new literary ventures, more personal and intimate and dipping deep into long ago things and personalities. Perhaps he will carry forward his memoirs beyond the Armistice date.

"I may do it," he said, as he turned to meet the many friends and high officials come to wish him "happy birthday."

MAYOR TO FACE LIQUOR CHARGE

Conspiracy To Violate Prohibition Law Charged Against Yorkville Official; Freed On Bond

STURGEVILLE, Sept. 13.—Following federal investigation into complaints from the village of Yorkville in the southern part of Jefferson county, Mayor Ben Oliver was arrested last night together with Fred Cusick, hardware dealer, and his sister, Mrs. Mary Opalich. They were jointly charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

Mayor Oliver, who apparently had anticipated arrest, was met at the county jail by an attorney and bondsman and was released on bond of $1,000 for hearing before U. S. Commissioner James Berkowski on September 21. Cusick and his sister still are in jail.

Federal agents led by Don White raided Cusick's store and seized a quantity of beer and liquor. In a raid on the Opalich home, a still and 50 gallons of liquor were confiscated.

Numerous affidavits were submitted by Yorkville residents, federal agents charge, alleging Mayor Oliver gave his sanction to dry violators. The mayor refused to comment on his arrest today.

Bee Sting Fatal

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept. 13.—Paul Smith, 30, farmer, was dead today, apparently the result of a bee's sting. He was stung while gathering apples yesterday, and died half an hour later. Two months ago, Smith became unconscious after a bee lighted on him, but was revived.

Sunday school, 9:45 (Jeremiah 31: 27-34) H. E. Smith, Supt.

The human race is made of its millions. What a mass of people! We may appear lost in the multitude, but in the sight of God we are separate individuals with distinct personalities and responsibilities. No one shall be able to hide his or her sins behind the shadow of the multitude. The most lonely person need not feel lost in the mighty sea of humanity. Before God, we are individuals and are crowned with dignity and honor. The group to which we belong cannot work out our salvation. As individual persons shall we receive the saving grace of Jesus Christ.

Morning worship, 11, sermon, "A Critical Age."

It is an easy thing to criticize. We may see the faults and flaws and that may be all we can see. Criticism is of very little value unless there goes with it some suggestion to better and improve. No one shall be able to hide his or her sins behind the shadow of the multitude. The most lonely person need not feel lost in the mighty sea of humanity. Before God, we are individuals and are crowned with dignity and honor. The group to which we belong cannot work out our salvation. First Baptist, Lincoln and State, A. C. Westphal, pastor.

"I come that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly." Jesus Christ came not to live His life, but to die His death that we might have that more abundant life. To merely follow the example of Christ would not suffice. It may please our neighbors, but would not satisfy God, unless we could perfectly like Christ, for nothing short of perfection atones for our sin. Since we cannot be perfect in Christ, we must hide our lives in Christ, thus becoming a part of Him, so that when God accepts the perfect Son, He also accepts those who are in Him, or are a part of Him. "I am the Vine, ye are the branches."

RADIO SEEN AS EVIL BY SECTS

Religious People Regard Late Invention As Sin In Prayers

MONT ST. MICHEL, Sept. 13.—The radio is the latest disguise of the devil.

That is what the religious folk of this place believe. That is why they are offering communal prayers daily in the church here. "May the loudspeaker be struck dumb. Deliver us, Oh, Lord, from this evil thing, the radio"—this is the substance of their prayer.

For three weeks they intend to concentrate all the force of their prayers towards obtaining heavenly relief from all broadcasting in general and all receiving sets in particular.

The clerical authorities are in back of this holy campaign against that old devil, the wave length. They consider all broadcasting programs low and pernicious. Even if they were good, they wouldn't like them in Mont St. Michel.

Besides the bold bad aspects of radio broadcasters in general, these unpleasant people are furthermore irreligious, say the St. Michel clerics. Between numbers they slip in propaganda tending to lead listeners astray, and give free publicity to the primrose path.

To which prayer is the only antidote. That is why the church here is filled night and day by humble petitioners seeking to cleanse their souls and purge their hearts of all taint acquired through contact with four tube sets, and to clear their way to Paradise now barred by radio antenna and run-down batteries.</

McBride Opposed To Any Action To Submit Vote To States
 (By Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Fresh talk of submitting the prohibition question to the states or the people of a new decision, caused the Anti-Saloon league today to reaffirm its opposition to any such project.
 F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the dry organization, characterized such a proposal as “impossible and ridiculous.”
 “We’ll oppose resubmission of prohibition to the states or the people,” he said. “Any such proposal would be impossible and ridiculous. It would take a two-thirds vote of the senate and house for congress to propose such an amendment and the congress is now more than two to one dry. Three-fourths of the states would never ratify such an amendment.”
 McBride made the statement in discussing a letter written by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, in which the sponsor of the stringent five and ten law said he would be willing to work for the submission to the people of a proposal for repeal or modification of the voters of his state desired.

GIANT RAFT OF TIMBER LOOSE
Lumberjacks, Sailors In Battle To Save Big Pulpwood Cargo
 (By Associated Press)
 ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 13.—Lumberjacks with hand spikes and sailors twirling ropes today fought waves and slippery logs in Lake Superior in attempts to capture a $170,000 log raft that broke loose from its tug boat off Stockton Island.
 The raft, said by lumbermen to be the largest ever towed from Canada, was made up of about 17,000 cords. Three tugs were needed to pull it. Usually, one tug is all that is necessary to handle the log rafts.
 High winds sprang up as the raft was pulled by Presque Point at the head of Chequamegon bay. It veered toward shore, dragging the tugboats after it, helpless before the power of the rampant raft, the masters of the tugs ordered the tow lines cut to save their craft.
 The raft, made up of valuable pulpwood piled against the island, fog made impossible the task of floating it last night.

Lack Of Practice Field Handicaps Work Of Salem Gridders

Stonemen Forced To Hold Workouts For Season At Dunn Eden

Lack of a suitable practice field is proving a serious handicap to the Salem High grid squad in its work-outs in preparation for the season's inaugural conflict with Canton McKinley High at Canton next Saturday. To date the team has been holding workouts at Centennial park and Dunn Eden lake while for the next week and perhaps the remainder of the season, Coaches Floyd W. Stone and Franklin Lewis will be forced to take their proteges to the lake for their scrimmage sessions.

Stone was forced to give up practices at Centennial park after frequent injuries were sustained by players from stones, glass and other debris collected on the field with result that sessions were held Thursday and Friday nights at the lake, where the team held its pre-season training camp. Due to a contract with the Canadian-American Forestry company which is attempting to grow grass at Reilly athletic stadium, Stone will not be permitted to hold practices at the school field for sometime.

Explains Handicaps

Stone Friday night explained that his lads are working under a great handicap because of the lack of a field.

"It is just like practicing for basketball in a barn without baskets, boundary lines or other necessary equipment," the coach explained. "We get some practice that is worth while and beneficial to the team, but haven't had a single workout yet on field goal kicking, kick-offs and other work that is absolutely essential to a good football team."

The practices at Centennial park proved a mental hazard to all the grid candidates after several sustained cuts and bruises from stones, wood and glass lying in the playing field. This field has not been in good condition for either football or regulation baseball.

Stone has had a large squad out since practices started and hopes to be able to induce the candidates all to stick to their work. Prospects for another great team are excellent but he is pessimistic as to his team's chances against McKinley High unless some practice is obtained on a regular gridiron. To be forced to take a squad of 44 gridders seven miles out of the city each evening for a workout is anything but beneficial to a football team that hopes to continue a record of victories into a second consecutive season.

NATIONAL RACE GROWS TIGHTER AS LEADERS ALL WIN THEIR GAMES

(By Associated Press)

The National league pennant race became even more thrilling today. Chicago, St. Louis and Brooklyn, all triumphant yesterday, remained just where they were before, while the New York Giants, who suffered a third straight defeat at the hands of the Cardinals yesterday have dropped four games behind first place.

Here is today's standing of the four contenders:

Club	W	L	Pct.
CHICAGO	81	59	.579
ST. LOUIS	80	59	.575 1/2
BROOKLYN	81	60	.574 1/2
NEW YORK	77	63	.550 1/4

The 5 to 2 triumph of the Cardinals over the Giants in the final game of their series yesterday gave the New Yorkers a setback that will be hard to overcome.

The Cards put on a ninth inning rally with the score tied they poked out four hits which, with a Giant error, produced three runs.

Chicago's slugging Cubs had little trouble in holding their slim lead against the attacks of the Phillies, with Hack Wilson's 49th home run in the second and a six run rally in the sixth as the high spots, they came out with a 17 to 4 triumph.

Brooklyn downed Cincinnati almost as easily. The Robins made a fast start against Ray Kulp and finished their part of the scoring in their 7 to 3 victory in five innings as Lopez and Wright hit timely homers.

Babe Ruth continued his pursuit of Wilson in the season's home run race and furnished the one ray of light for the New York Yankees as they dropped completely out of the American league pennant chase. The Babe hit homer 46 in the third inning, but his teammates errors enabled Detroit to win 5 to 4.

Washington gained half a game on the idle Athletics and once more is 6 1/2 games behind the leaders. Off to a six run lead in the first two innings, the Senators barely staggered through to an 8 to 7 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Two games of no particular importance in the standings went ten innings and both were decided by 5 to 4 scores. The Boston Braves came from behind to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Boston's other team, the Red Sox, scored four times in the ninth to tie the score against the St. Louis Browns as Phil Todd hit a last-minute homer only to have the Browns come back for their fifth run in the extra inning.

Moose Enters Team In Sebring League

The Salem Moose lodge has entered a team in the inter-city league at Sebring and Thursday night won its first match, defeating the Sebring Energine Cleaners three straight games.

Time savers

The great American instinct is to save time—a lot of time—and then some more time. In the big affairs and the little things of life, time is the most valuable thing at our command.

Limited trains, automatic telephones, special editions of newspapers, sixty-miles-an-hour automobiles, airplanes still faster—we have these things in answer to our demand for speed. And an equally important time saver in the lives of people today is advertising. Just as surely as any other modern service, the advertisements bridge hours and days for people who have wants to be filled.

Readers of advertisements are the same people who demand the utmost efficiency in communication, in business, in their daily life. They know that a few minutes' reading of the advertisements will tell them more about products, values and the intelligent spending of their money than they could discover in days by any other method.

And like the other great time savers, advertisements save money and energy, as well. The reading of them is a genuine human economy.

ARMY PILOTS TO BECOME WORLD'S BEST MARKSMEN

Bombing Plane Base To Be Constructed At San Francisco

COST OF PROJECT
TO BE $4,000,000

Two Bases Planned For Construction During
Coming Year

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—U. S. Army air pilots are expected to become the most proficient marksmen in the world when the $4,000,000 bombing plane base, already approved by congress, is completed on Marin county.

This was revealed here by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation, in discussing the new Marlin air base and the huge Army Air Corps supply and repair depot to be established in Alameda county.

The two army air bases, to be started within a year, will cost in excess of $6,500,000 when completed.

"Aside from its great strategic value in coast defense, the Marlin bombing base will give army flyers something they have not yet possessed—ideal settings and opportunities for bombing practice," said Secretary Davison.

"The great stretches of marsh land stretching eastward and northward from San Francisco bay shores and big open stretches of the bay itself will furnish perfectly safe settings, without endangering civilian life, for use of live bombs in marksmanship practice."

"Loaded bombs can also be transported to the practice areas without having to be carried over populated sections, with the consequent danger to such sections from a possible plane mishap."

"The opportunity for real airplane bombing practice will be so ideal that army flyers from all over the United States may be sent here for instruction—and the result will be in all probability be the development of army airmen into the most proficient bombers of the whole world's armed forces. Of course that is making it pretty strong—but Americans have always been superior marksmen both on land and sea."

Supplementing his announcement of yesterday that 230 officers, 1,600 enlisted men and 94 army-fighting craft would be located at the two new bases, Secretary Davidson said that Army Air Service repair depot, to be located in Alameda county, will employ from 200 to 300 civilians.

The repair depot and the supply depot, to be located together in Alameda, will furnish equipment and parts to all army planes on the Pacific coast and in Hawaii and the Philippines.

The latter part of April—as soon as a deficiency appropriation can be secured from Congress—already has been set by Secretary Davison as the probable time for starting actual construction work on the two bases. Congress has approved them and appropriated $1,250,000 for the Marlin bombing base and $743,000 for initial costs of the Alameda depots.

Following his inspection of the two sites recently, the assistant secretary of war reiterated his previous approval of the proposed locations.

"The Marlin and Alameda sites are as ideal for the purposes for which they have been selected as it is possible for any location to be," he declared. "When completed and put to use, they will greatly improve the strategic position of Army coast defenses on the Pacific."

"Not only will air pilots get unequalled opportunity for bombing practice, but also gain much valuable practice in ranging up and emergency air-attacks as would be down the coast in establishing such needed in operating against enemies at sea or in time of war."

College Group To Fight Prohibition

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Sept. 13.—A national organization of young men who hope to "laugh the 18th amendment to a legal death" will be incorporated next week. The United Press learned today.

Thirty young business men, college graduates, none more than 30 years of age, form the nucleus of the group. Their names, however, are being withheld until a charter has been obtained.

Under the charter, they will incorporate "to fight prohibition through ridicule. Their officers will serve without pay and will collect funds for the sole purpose of poking fun at the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

Ask For Grand Jury

WASHINGTON C. H., Sept. 13.—Fayette County Prosecutor W. S. Paxton today was considering requests that he order a grand jury investigation of the defunct Ohio State bank here. MOVIES AT THE STATE

Irene Rich is starred in the production "On Your Back," showing at the state theater next week.

Four attractions scheduled at the State and Grand theaters next week mark the opening of a late fall and summer program which will include some of the year's greatest cinematic productions. Manager C. Virgil Rakestraw, in announcing next week's schedule, also listed groups of pictures for which he has arranged production in the two theaters here during the next two and three months.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" heads the list of future attractions. Others are: "Manly Raffles," "The Divorcee," "Man Trouble," "Hold Everything," "Common Clay," "The Unholy Three," "Flirting Widows," "Last of the Dianas," "Dawn Patrol," "Song of My Heart," "Let Us Be Gay," "Caught Short" and "King of Jazz."

"The Unholy Three" is the talking adaptation of the late Lon Chaney's great success, the last picture which he made in Hollywood. It is the picture which marked his first talkie role and one on which motion picture magnates based predictions of Mr. Chaney's future success which was cut short by his sudden death.

"King of Jazz" is Paul Whiteman's first appearance in talkies while "Common Clay" is one of the greatest pictures ever produced. At the State, beginning Monday, we have "On Your Back," featuring Irene Rich, Marian Schilling, H. B. Warner and Raymond Hackett. This play is taken from the popular magazine story, which met the approval of fiction critics a short time ago. It is the tale of a mother who devotes her entire life to fashionable dressmaking, that her son's latter life may be a "bed of roses," but is disappointed when he becomes infatuated with a stage beauty.

"The Locked Door," which is the new offering of the Grand theater, offers exciting, intense, and amusing entertainment. Rod LaRoque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd and Betty Bronson enact the drama of everyday life portraying nightclubs, police raids and a mysterious murder.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Brown sugar is not merely sweetening—it adds a flavor of its own, and gives a pleasant background to other flavors. Apples cooked or baked with brown instead of white sugar are especially good, and if they're the sour greenings, so much the better.

In preparing sauces, brown sugar is worth trying instead of going to the trouble of trying to caramelize white sugar, and plain brown sugar which will give just as good a flavor without the effort. Brown sugar may be added to plain cornstarch for caramel pudding, to custard, or junket, providing sweetening and flavoring.

Similarly, in preparing simple hot puddings—bread and dried fruit puddings, such as fig, apricot, prune, currant, brown sugar is more flavorful than white.

Here is a pungent sauce suitable for fowl or meat. It may be served hot with hot meats or cold with meat or vegetable salads if preferred:

Raisin Sauce

2 oranges
2 lemons
1 cup hot water
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped walnuts
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons cornstarch

Dissolve the cornstarch in a little cold water. Heat the water, strained juice of oranges and lemons to boiling point, add the sugar and cornstarch and when slightly thickened the raisins and chopped walnuts. Continue cooking a few minutes longer, then remove from the fire.

This sauce can be kept chilled for several days and served as accompaniment to meat or cold fish.

Oldsmobile's ease of handling and quick responsiveness make it a wonderful car in traffic. Every control operates so smoothly and effectively. Clutch, brakes, gear-shift, and steering—all work with delightful ease. A touch on the throttle, and the car flashes away as the signal light changes. And it pulls down to a smooth, silent stop immediately, when the signal's against you. As for parking, just try it yourself. Pick a restricted space at the curb—and see how easy it is to fit Oldsmobile into that space. Then, when you've tried these things, try Oldsmobile on the road. Its all-round performance will tell you why Oldsmobile is such a great car to own.
